

London, July 2025 – Crossbridge Capital is pleased to announce that Manish Singh, Chief Investment Officer, has been included in the Citywealth Leaders List 2025 – a recognised benchmark celebrating the most respected professionals in wealth management and private client services globally.

Now in its 20th year, the Citywealth Leaders List identifies individuals who demonstrate exceptional technical ability, investment expertise, and commitment to advising high-net-worth clients. The 2025 edition features over 1,800 professionals across disciplines including private banking, fiduciary services, and investment strategy.

Manish's inclusion reflects his longstanding track record of investment insight, strategic thinking, and trusted client relationships. At Crossbridge Capital, he leads the investment function and has been instrumental in shaping the firm's global macro strategy and discretionary offering.

Tarek Khlaf, Co-Founder and Group CEO, said:

"We are proud to see Manish recognised on this year's Citywealth Leaders List. His insight, deep expertise, and ability to communicate complex investment ideas clearly have been of tremendous value to our clients and to the firm. This recognition is well deserved and reflects his commitment to excellence in wealth management."

This year's edition of the Leaders List marks a milestone for Citywealth, with refreshed branding and new digital profiles integrated into its news platform, enhancing visibility and engagement for those recognised.
