“I do not think there is anything to panic about because signs of economic revival are so strong that people have started talking about inflation.”

Read full article from The Economic Times

© 2026 Crossbridge Capital. All rights reserved.
This material is provided for informational purposes only and does not constitute investment advice.