“So the Fed will clearly be looking in terms of first, they will be relieved that inflation is not a problem. It has not been a problem for some time but at least in the headline number, they will be relieved,” says Manish Singh, CIO, Crossbridge Capital.

Read full article from The Economic Times

© 2026 Crossbridge Capital. All rights reserved.
This material is provided for informational purposes only and does not constitute investment advice.