

“So you do not have to just have a rate cut for equities to go higher. I mean, that is misconception. If the real wage growth or economic growth carries on for other factors, then the economy could still go up,” says Manish Singh, Crossbridge Capital.

Read full article from The Economic Times